COURSE CONTENT

Student Learning Outcomes:

At the conclusion of this course, the student should be able to:

1. Articulate the ways in which the study of the Humanities in the United States provides diverse ways of understanding human thought, creativity, and aesthetics.
2. Interpret and evaluate art forms and ideas (e.g. visual art, architecture, literature, philosophy, film, music, dance and theater) from at least three distinct cultural/ethnic groups within the United States.

Objectives:

Upon completion of this course the students will be able to:

1. Relate works to their historical and/or cultural context.
2. Compare and contrast the cultural experiences and expressions of three or more ethnic groups within the United States.
3. Examine their own ideas, values, beliefs, and experiences in comparison with the ideas, values, beliefs, and experiences of other cultural groups within the United States.
4. Demonstrate in writing the ability to analyze, compare and contrast, weigh arguments, examine values, and integrate materials from several disciplines. (e.g. visual art, architecture, literature, philosophy, film, music, dance and theater).

Topics and Scope:

1. Representative primary works of visual art, music, film, drama, literature and philosophy/religion, which represent a variety of cultural expressions in the United States from the earliest indigenous cultures to the present day.

2. Major theoretical or analytical issues relevant to understanding the meaning of and dynamic interactions between race, ethnicity and gender in the United States as it pertains to the Humanities.
3. The experiences and diversity of cultural expressions of at least three of the following six ethnic groups: African Americans, Native Indigenous Americans, Asian Americans, Chicano/Latino Americans, European Americans, and Americans of Middle Eastern origin as they pertain to the Humanities.
4. In addition, the course may examine how issues of class, sexual orientation, age, religion, or disability impact cultural expression or cultural participation in the United States as they pertain to the Humanities.
5. Chosen works will be studied within their historical and/or cultural context, and may be structured thematically or chronologically.

Assignment:

1. Reading and analysis of assigned primary texts (30-50 pgs. per week).
2. Reading assignments related to establishing historical or cultural context.
3. Examinations, including quizzes, mid-term, final, and/or take-home exam.
4. 3-5 written essays (each essay is 500 words each) requiring students to analyze representative works of literature, visual art, music, drama, film, or philosophy/religion. Students will compare and contrast; examine ideas, values, beliefs, and experiences; and/or to integrate two or more disciplines pertaining to the study of the Humanities.
5. Optional participation in cultural activities, including museum visits, concerts, poetry readings, lectures, and field trips.
6. Optional creative projects (debates, visual journals).
