COURSE CONTENT

Student Learning Outcomes:

At the conclusion of this course, the student should be able to:

1. Demonstrate a basic vocabulary related to typography and graphic design.
2. Develop technical and creative problem-solving skills to conceptualize, design, produce, and present original applications of typography on graphic design projects.
3. Analyze the effectiveness of visual communications through typographic designs utilizing the critique process.

Objectives:

At the conclusion of this course, the student should be able to:

1. Create original typographic design projects, synthesizing the parameters of the assignment within a specific deadline.
2. Evaluate and defend their projects and typographic choices, and compare them to their peers during the critique process using critical thinking skills.
3. Utilize typographic terminology and measurements.
4. Design typographic layouts, synthesize their knowledge of other software, and build upon their knowledge of design principles and elements.
5. Demonstrate an understanding of the five classic typeface families.
6. Create a portfolio of finished typographic projects.

Topics and Scope:

- I. History, Contemporary Trends, Language, Aesthetics and Emerging Media as they Relate to Typography

 - E. Comparison of commercial versus free font sites on the web
 - F. Different font types and basic techniques for downloading and using them

Assignment:

1. Exercises/activities centering around the use of type (1 - 16), such as:
 - a. A layout based project that focuses primarily on the use of type
 - b. A layout based project that examines type concerns under a variety of different types of constraints
 - c. A web based project that uses type effectively, taking into consideration type needs as related to digital environments
 - d. A print based project that explores, examines and repurposes type found in the student's everyday environment.
 - e. Advertising based project that explores the use of type while experimenting with different color modes (CMYK and gray scale)
 - f. Identifying and labeling the anatomy of typefaces
 - g. Matching typefaces with appropriate font families
 - h. Practice creating hand lettering
 - i. In class exercises that expands on weekly topics
2. Design based projects centering around the use of type (1 - 6), such as:
 - a. Based on an instructor selected topic, create two versions of a poster, one using hand lettering completed by hand and a second design digitally created
 - b. Create your typeface and use it in a digital design
 - c. Create a newsletter based on instructor selected topics
 - d. Locating type in everyday life, photograph it, then use the type to design cards detailing where the letter was found, what's its type category and more. This is a printed assignment
3. Critiques, group and individual critiques in oral or written formats
4. Weekly reading assignments (1 - 50 pages)
5. Exam and/or Quizzes (0 - 16)
6. Attendance and participation in in-class critiques

Methods of Evaluation/Basis of Grade:

Writing: Assessment tools that demonstrate writing skills and/or require students to select, organize and explain ideas in writing.

None, This is a degree applicable course but assessment tools based on writing are not included because problem solving assessments and skill demonstrations are more appropriate for this course.

Writing
0 - 0%

Problem Solving: Assessment tools, other than exams, that demonstrate competence in computational or non-computational problem solving skills.

Exercises/activities centering around the use of type

Problem solving
20 - 40%

Skill Demonstrations: All skill-based and physical demonstrations used for assessment purposes including skill performance exams.

Design based projects centering around the use of type

Skill Demonstrations
