COURSE CONTENT

Outcomes and Objectives:

Upon completion of the course, students will be able to:

1. Participate in dialogues that require the synthesis of receptive and expressive ASL skills and involve such activities as describing the interior of a person's house; complaining, making suggestions and requests; and exchanging information about immediate and extended family history and life events.
2. Create a grammatically correct description in ASL of a house, all of its contents and various spatial relationships using locative classifiers.
3. Describe a picture of an actual problem situation involving health or living circumstances, synthesizing the information into a description in ASL of the situation and producing a grammatically correct request in ASL for assistance in resolving the situation.
4. Analyze a description in ASL of a problem situation, and generate in grammatically correct ASL possible solutions to the problem situation.
5. Synthesize a set of events in a life history of a deaf or hearing American, into a concise and grammatically correct narration in ASL of the life history.
6. Analyze and produce a grammatically correct description of the nationalities and ancestries of several persons and, using events in their family histories and ASL sequencing techniques, create a basic narrative in ASL.
7. Outline the major points of several topics about Deaf culture, including: Examples of ASL literature, folklore and poetry; cross-cultural communication strategies between Deaf and hearing people; Martha's Vineyard, the first known natural signing community in America; and biographies of several important Deaf Americans.
