COURSE CONTENT

Student Learning Outcomes:

At the conclusion of this course, the student should be able to:

1. Prepare, rehearse, and perform material from plays requiring non-realistic styles, period realism and/or specialized performance skills at a beginning level for a public audience.
2. Adapt his/her character development process and performance techniques to meet the needs of a play's specific style, period, and/or specialized performance demands at a beginning level.
3. Identify and explain major historical, literary, and cultural forces that shaped the development of a play's specific style and/or period, as well the relationship of those forces to the acting techniques required.

Objectives:

In order to achieve these learning outcomes, during the course the student will:

1. Demonstrate performance skills through a variety of non-realistic acting styles, period realism and/or plays requiring specialized performance skills (e.g. dialects, unarmed combat, period movement, etc.) at a beginning acting level.
2. Identify the influence of historical events, literature and culture on the theatrical practices of various periods.
3. Analyze and score scripts, applying style-appropriate and/or period-appropriate techniques.
4. Conduct research and text analysis in preparation for roles from styles and periods of plays.
5. Translate basic acting theories and analytical concepts into practical application through performance interpretations.
6. Create and sustain the distinct physical, vocal, and behavioral components of multiple characters, while adapting to the performance requirements of specific styles, periods, and/or special performance techniques.

7. Revise and enhance acting choices, objectively incorporating the feedback of others, and utilizing the rehearsal process as a period of creative exploration.
8. Define individual acting obstacles and determine individual strengths.
9. Critique the work of others, utilizing terms and concepts relating to the specific style, period, and/or specialized skill being performed.
10. Support the throughline of a composite showcase by sustaining energy, focus, and pacing, as well as creatively interpreting transitional business.
11. Work cooperatively and professionally within a high-stress environment to produce a collaborative work of art for public performance.

Topics and Scope:

I. Introduction to period and non-realistic acting styles

- A. Defining style
- B. Researching a style or period
- C. Personal acting development when studying styles and periods

II. Introduction of Style Units:

Each time the course is offered, three different styles will be studied and performed, selected by the instructor using the following criteria:

- At least two non-realistic styles
(e.g. Greek, Kabuki, Commedia dell'Arte, Farce, Comedy of Manners, Absurdism, Brechtian, Post Modernism, etc.)
- At least one from a period prior to the 20th century
- At least one comedic style
- At least one dramatic or tragic style
- At least one should require a special performance skill
(e.g. dialects, period movement, unarmed combat, playing a disability, etc.)

Each style unit may focus on material from a single representative play, an individual playwright's body of work, or works by multiple playwrights. A record of past units taught is kept on file by the department.

Assignment:

1. Participation in group exercises during course of study. Exercises may include:
 - A. Discussions of acting theory based on assigned readings.
 - B. Improvisations and style exercises.
 - C. Vocal exercises for clarity, projection, dialect and style.
 - D. Physical exercises for relaxation, flexibility, and control.
 - E. Period movement and manners.
2. Performance Assignments:
 The student will perform a scene and/or monologue for each of the three units of study for the course, each assignment demonstrating an understanding and competence in the specific acting style and/or specialized acting skill. Each scene or monologue will be performed within a time limit suitable for inclusion in the Showcase (scenes - approx. 2-5 minutes; monologues - approx. 1-2 minutes).

3. Read 3 plays (one for each performance assignment).
4. Conduct assigned research and complete 3 written character analyses and/or script analyses. Analyses may be individual assignments or collaborative assignments with scene partners. Depending on the style requirements, may also be given scoring, scansion or other script preparation assignments.
5. SHOWCASE - Participation in culminating public performances of representative scenes and monologues in the styles studied during the semester:
 - A. Prepare selected Showcase material, either reviewing class assignments or rehearsing new material.
6. Attend 2-3 Theatre Arts Department productions. Participate in class discussion regarding the acting demands within each production and their relationship to course content.
7. Professionalism and Attendance

Adhere to the following standards of acting professionalism throughout the course:

 - A. Arrive promptly and prepared for all class meetings, outside rehearsals, and performances.
 - B. Maintain an amiable and supportive attitude when interacting with other members of the performance ensemble.
 - C. Participate actively in class discussions and exercises.
 - D. Work collaboratively with scene partners.
 - E. Perform each role in a conscientious and dedicated manner.
 - F. Respectfully follow director's instructions in Showcase preparation and maintain that direction in performance.
 - G. Strive to maintain good health and safety practices.
 - H. Follow the terms of the course syllabus.
8. Optional Assignment: Attend 1-2 professional productions in the style(s) being studied. Discounted group tickets will be arranged; students provide their own transportation. Students unable to attend the performance, either with the group or independently, will be given a suitable alternative assignment (such as viewing a filmed production in the same style).
