COURSE CONTENT

Student Learning Outcomes:

At the conclusion of this course, the student should be able to:

1. Demonstrate competency in the technical and aesthetic aspects of the photographic and video processes in journalistic storytelling endeavors.
2. Demonstrate an understanding of the history and development of photojournalism.
3. Use appropriate news, ethical and legal judgment in planning, pursuing and creating photojournalism works and assignments, including shooting both photo and video and applying Associated Press Style and basic newswriting skills.

Objectives:

Students will be able to:

1. Anticipate and solve the demands associated with taking photos or shooting video on location and meeting print and web publication deadlines for The Oak Leaf or other publication.
2. Solve problems regarding on-the-spot decision making of lens, ISO, exposure and angle choice when covering a photo story; and solve problems regarding audio, lighting, shooting and editing a video story.
3. Relate the impact of the history of photojournalism to its current use and status.
4. Apply principles and skills of photojournalism to the creation of photo and video story assignments.
5. Analyze photojournalism ethics and apply the principles to their own efforts.
6. Use computer software programs to edit and process images and videos to professional standards.
7. Evaluate subjects based on news, interest, value and marketability.
8. Create an online photo slideshow or video story.
9. Create, critique and edit photographs to assemble a cohesive print or digital portfolio to showcase their photographic and/or video abilities.
