COURSE CONTENT

Student Learning Outcomes:

At the conclusion of this course, the student should be able to:

- 1. Analyze and explain the inherent characteristics of the great works of Western classical music from Antiquity through 1750.
- 2. Describe and relate how the structure of Western classical music has changed over time relative to cultural circumstances.

Objectives:

At the conclusion of this course, the student should be able to:

- 1. Compare and contrast the stylistic elements of different periods in music history.
- 2. Relate how musical styles owe their characteristics to the inventive genius of the composers, performers, and theorists of a given period.
- 3. Explain how music-making is linked to the great endeavors of human thought and activity.
- 4. Recognize musical performance practices from Antiquity through the Baroque era as interpreted and performed in their historical contexts.
- 5. Identify important music terminologies and relate them to each area studied.
- 6. Analyze and discuss the music of each historical period using proper music terminology.
- 7. Explain how the dynamic interactions of Western and non-Western musical traditions have transformed the development of Western music.

Topics and Scope:

For each historical era, discussion will focus on the social and economic conditions of that era, political and religious movements, interactions of Western and non-Western cultures and musical traditions, and how all of these factors shaped the works of the prominent composers of that era.
