COURSE CONTENT

Student Learning Outcomes:

At the conclusion of this course, the student should be able to:

1. Analyze and articulate theoretical concepts of racism, eurocentrism, ethnicity, and self-identity.
2. Describe historical events within their cultural expressions, intellectual traditions, and contributions of Chicanx and Latinx people into U.S. society.
3. Understand the self-determination and the struggle for equality of Chicanas and Latinas within their communities and U.S. society at large.

Objectives:

In order to achieve these learning outcomes, during the course students will:

1. Discuss historical, sociological, and cultural aspects of Chicanx and Latinx participation in U.S. society.
2. Explain the development of Chicanx and Latinx communities.
3. Understand the United States racist and discriminatory immigration policies.
4. Define and understand concepts such as racism, discrimination, segregation, self-determination, and decolonization.
5. Understand the colonizing patterns of racism, infra-racism, sexism, and gender identity.

Ethnic Studies Objectives:

1. Analyze and articulate concepts such as race and racism, racialization, ethnicity, equity, ethno-centrism, eurocentrism, white supremacy, self-determination, liberation, decolonization, sovereignty, imperialism, settler colonialism, and anti-racism as analyzed in Latina and Latino American Studies.

2. Apply theory and knowledge produced by Latina and Latino American communities to describe the critical events, histories, cultures, intellectual traditions, contributions, lived-experiences and social struggles of those groups with a particular emphasis on agency and group-affirmation.
3. Critically analyze the intersection of race and racism as they relate to class, gender, sexuality, religion, spirituality, national origin, immigration status, ability, tribal citizenship, sovereignty, language, and/or age in Latina and Latino American communities.
4. Critically review how struggle, resistance, racial and social justice, solidarity, and liberation, as experienced and enacted by Latina and Latino Americans are relevant to current and structural issues such as communal, national, international, and transnational politics as, for example, in immigration, reparations, settler-colonialism, multiculturalism, language policies.
5. Describe and actively engage with anti-racist and anti-colonial issues and the practices and movements in Latina and Latino American communities to build a just and equitable society.
