Assignment:

As a 3-hour lecture course, students will complete 6 hours of homework per week, which will include:

I. Reading:

- A. Read approx. 10-25 pages per week from text
- B. Read, analyze, and discuss 2-4 plays:
 1. plays assigned to the whole class (1 - 2)
 2. A play for Acting scene (if from a published play)
 3. A play for Director/Designer project

II. Attending Plays:

Attend 3-4 theatre productions selected by the instructor and be prepared to discuss each production in class (Also see III.C Reviewing below)

Production Details:

- A. Students will have multiple performance dates to choose from unless specifically designated as a class field trip (see below)
- B. Students will provide their own transportation
- C. Tickets:

Selected productions may be Theatre Arts productions (voucher), SRT summer productions (voucher or discounted admission), community theatre productions (discounted admission), or professional productions (discounted admission). Students will obtain or purchase tickets through the Theatre Arts Box Office (unless special arrangements have been made with a non-SRJC box office)
- D. Field Trips to Community and/or Professional Productions:

Class may attend a designated performance as a group. Students will still provide their own transportation. Those students unable to attend a scheduled field trip performance with the class or another performance of the same production will be given an alternative assignment (viewing another live or recorded production)

III. Hands-On Experiences:

- A. Playwriting assignment:

Write a brief original scene in two drafts. (approx. 2-3 pages). Participate in a in-class reading of the script
- B. Acting scene:

Stage, rehearse, memorize and perform a 2-3 person scene (1-3 minutes)

 1. Scenes may be from published plays or neutral scenes.

(See I.B.2. above)

2. In preparation, complete a short written scene/character analysis.
(approx. 1 page)
 3. Alternative Assignment: Students unable to participate may be given an alternative assignment to be determined by the instructor
- C. Critiquing a Play assignment(s): 1-4 short written assignments
Suggested assignment options include:
1. Compare and contrast two reviews of the same professional production.
(approx. 2-4 pages)
 2. Write a critique of one of the assigned productions attended, following review criteria. (approx. 2-3 pages)
 3. Complete a worksheet answering analysis questions about an assigned production attended [approx. 2 pages/worksheet]
- D. Production Hours:
The student will actively participate in the production process by completing 10 hours in one of the following areas:
1. Costume shop
 2. Scene shop
 3. Ushering (4 performances)
 4. Publicity
- Timeline and Log:
Hours must be completed within the posted times/calendar for the area selected. Students will maintain and submit a log of their hours; may also complete a brief summary or survey of their learning experience
- Alternative Assignment Option:
Students already completing substantial production hours in other courses, or those who are unable to participate in any of these areas may complete a comparable research project relating to the production of plays
[Note: This assignment will be also be used for sections offered during the summer or as part of the Study Abroad Program.]
- IV. Director/Designer Project (Culminating project):
Teamed with 1-2 fellow student(s) -- 1 serving as director and 1-2 as designer -- each student will research, conceptualize, and create a collaborative production treatment for a play of their choosing. Projects will be displayed and/or presented by the team in class. Written documentation will include a summary of research and script analysis, as well as bibliography
(approx. 3-5 page written documentation)
- V. Quizzes and Exam:
- A. Approx. 10-20 quizzes on assigned reading; may be in-class or take-home quizzes
 - B. Final exam on terms and concepts covered during the semester
