COURSE CONTENT

Student Learning Outcomes:

At the conclusion of this course, the student should be able to:

1. Apply critical thinking skills to respond to adapted selections of nonfiction.
2. Apply the writing process to produce paragraphs that demonstrate level-appropriate organization and content, critical thinking, vocabulary and fluency, and grammatical accuracy.
3. Comprehend intermediate reading passages by identifying organizational strategies, paraphrasing and summarizing, and using main ideas and details to support writing assignments.
4. Word-process paragraphs and access information on the Internet.
5. Utilize metacognitive thinking skills in learning and studying processes.

Objectives:

At the conclusion of this course, the student should be able to:

Reading:

1. Employ level-appropriate critical reading skills.
2. Distinguish main ideas from supporting details or examples in intermediate reading passages.
3. Summarize paragraph-length selections of nonfiction.
4. Use contextual clues, high-frequency affixes and roots, and the dictionary to determine the meaning, pronunciation, and connotation of new vocabulary.

Writing:

1. Employ a multi-draft writing process to produce paragraphs with a clear topic sentence, supporting sentences, and an appropriate concluding sentence.
2. Recognize and produce different genres of academic writing, such as descriptive/narrative and expository modes.
3. Utilize level-appropriate critical thinking skills in developing and supporting a topic sentence.
4. Complete a timed paragraph writing exam in response to an intermediate reading passage.
5. Edit sentences and paragraphs for targeted grammatical structures.
6. Integrate academic vocabulary into paragraphs.
7. Demonstrate sentence variety such as simple and compound sentences in writing.
8. Exhibit control of sentence boundaries.
9. Employ level-appropriate control of punctuation, spelling, and verb tenses.

Information Competency and Research:

1. Access information on the Internet.
2. Use the computer effectively as a writing, research, and language development tool.
