COURSE CONTENT

Outcomes and Objectives:

Upon completion of this course, the student will be able to create an original garment design in fabric without the use of a paper pattern, by draping the fabric directly on the dress form. The student will also be able to make or adapt a dress form to conform to an individual's specific measurements.

Specific objectives of course: students will be able to:

Draft a pattern for a dress form cover based on an individual's measurements.

Utilize the fitted cover to create a custom-fitted dress form.

Utilize the dress form to create designs directly from fabric, including, but not limited to, the following categories: bodices, skirts, dresses, collars, sleeves

Discern which designs are most appropriate for draping techniques vs. flat pattern techniques

Compare the differences between draping with woven and knitted fabrics

Demonstrate their understanding of draping techniques by completion of an original design draped on the dress form

Topics and Scope:

Taking measurements for basic cover draft

Drafting of dress form cover from measurements

Conversion of standard dress form into custom-fitted dress form

Techniques for draping both woven and knitted fabrics on dress form to create designs of: bodices, skirts, dresses, sleeves and collars

Finalizing draped designs to be completed as garments: grainline, seam allowances, lase, hems, etc.

Assignment:

- Completion of a fitted dress form cover
- Completion of a fitted dress form
- Practice designs: a basic fitting shell, princess seam bodice, flared and pleated skirts, standard sleeve and collar styles, designs with knit fabric
- Completion of 2 full-scale original designs in fabric
