COURSE CONTENT

Outcomes and Objectives:

Upon completion of this course, the student will be able to:

1. Describe the communication process: the sender, message, channel, receiver, and feedback.
2. Distinguish between internal correspondence through memos and e-mails and external correspondence through letters and proposals for written communication generated within an organizational setting.
3. Compare the direct pattern for conveying positive messages and the indirect pattern for conveying negative messages.
4. Examine a comprehensive outline and organize data into main topics and sub points.
5. Gather and arrange data as needed into alphanumeric or decimal outline format or cluster diagram.
6. Identify and compare established formulas for writing specific types of correspondence such as documents requesting information, complying with requests, making claims or complaints, granting claims, and making claim adjustments.
7. Draft and revise documents using strategies presented.
8. Incorporate revision techniques that make a document clear, direct, conversational, and concise.
9. Examine the primary formats for documenting data sources.
10. Compare and contrast chronological, functional, and combination resumes.
11. Select an appropriate resume format for personal use.
