COURSE CONTENT

Student Learning Outcomes:

At the conclusion of this course, the student should be able to:

1. Describe principles of literary analysis in relation to African-American literature.
2. Apply principles of literary analysis to texts in African-American literature.
3. Write critical analysis and response papers about African-American literature.

Objectives:

Upon completion of this course, students will be able to:

1. Identify themes and concerns in texts of African-American writers and, when significant, recognize parallel directions in film, music, and the arts;
2. Demonstrate an awareness of historical patterns and emerging traditions embodied in texts;
3. Assess historical, sociological, and psychological trends and theoretical positions taken on works, illustrating internal cultural needs and responses to external social conditions;
4. Critically analyze the roles of stereotypical and archetypal patterns in creation of texts, as a reflection of race, ethnicity, gender, and class;
5. Identify diversity of experience represented in texts within and outside the African-American community relative to factors such as class, age, gender, religion, disabilities, and Deaf culture;
6. Compose logical and coherent analyses of texts;
7. Evaluate effectiveness and significance of individual works.
